MESSAGE FROM THE MCOBA PRESIDENT

Assalamualaikum and warmest greetings.

The 2023 Malay College Kuala Kangsar (MCKK) Premier 7s (P7s) Rugby Tournament is the eleventh edition in the series and we are anticipating to feature another wonderful weekend of superb rugby involving premier rugby schools from within and outside of Malaysia.

The MCKK P7s Rugby Tournaments are organised under the patronage of His Royal Highness the Sultan of Perak with the objective of encouraging the revival of the game of rugby amongst participating schools and to assist in shaping the development of the game.

During its first decade of existence, the MCKK P7s Tournament had firmly established itself as the most prestigious schools rugby tournament in Malaysia and had provided a great platform for young talents to showcase their talents and sportsmanship. Some had even gone on to represent their respective countries on the international stage.

It gives me great pleasure to announce that the 2023 Tournament will once again be contested by 24 teams from local and international schools.

Organising a mammoth tournament like the MCKK P7s could never be accomplished without the generosity of friendly sponsors and we look forward for a continuous supports from all our esteemed sponsors.

I also take this opportunity to record my appreciation to both the Organising Committees, the All Blacks Revival (ABR) Committee of The Malay College Old Boys Association (MCOBA) and the host MCKK - The Malay College Kuala Kangsar. Utmost appreciation also to the staff and students of MCKK as well as the various local Authorities and Organisation for their assistance, cooperation and participation contributing to the successful of this Tournament.

On behalf of MCOBA, I welcome you all to MCKK grounds to witness this year's Tournament and be thrilled with the on-field action and the carnival-like atmosphere.

Let the games begin and may the best team wins.

Warmest Regards.

From Wasteland to A-maze-land

In 2015, Menteri Besar Incorporated (Perak) was mandated by the Perak State Government to conserve the last tin dredger in Perak located at Tanjung Tualang. This historic tin dredger has been transformed to become an industrial heritage tourism sport. In addition, there is a new attraction at TT5 called the Maze Park. Suitable for all ages, this first heart-shaped maze is uniquely designed for the whole family to enjoy the scenic panorama and nature while having the time of their life. TT5 Maze Park will deliver a rich history of the forgotten Tin Mining industry along with hours of fun and excitement for all facets of life. TT5 Maze Park, it's A-maze-ing.

KUALA KANGSAR

The Iskandar Bridge

If one were to travel from the Perak State Capital of Ipoh to its Royal Town of Kuala Kangsar via the old trunk road, Federal Route 1, one would have to first cross the Perak River using the Iskandar Bridge.

This year marks 90 years since the Bridge's official opening on 29th of June, 1932 by the 30th Sultan of Perak - Almarhum Sultan Iskandar Shah Ibni Almarhum Sultan Idris Murshidul Azzam Shah Rahmatullah. After the ribbon cutting ceremony held at the centre of the Bridge, Sultan Iskandar delivered a speech in which he expressed his pleasure that the largest road bridge in the then Malaya was named after him.

Prior to the construction of the Iskandar Bridge, crossing of the Perak river by vehicles to and from Kuala Kangsar was a laborious affair as the only bridge available then was the Enggor Pontoon Bridge (1892 - 1932) which allowed only one way traffic at a time to cross the river at a pace slightly better than walking. Additionally, the Enggor Pontoon Bridge was prone to being swept away during major floods and hence the idea of having a more durable and permanent solution to cross the river.

The Iskandar Bridge was designed in London and its construction was undertaken by Messrs James Craig Limited - a company registered in Kelang, Selangor. The contract for the construction was officially awarded in April 1928 and its construction, at the site near the aforementioned Enggor Pontoon Bridge, proved to be a challenge particularly in respect to its foundation on the Ipoh side which necessitated going down nearly fifty feet into the river bed before finding solid rock. Furthermore, incidences of floods occurring during its construction also affected construction time.

Iskandar Bridge, located at GPS 4.81831, 100.9639 - featured seven spans of steelwork mounted on five concrete piers built on the river. It was reported that nearly fifteen thousand tonnes of concrete and seventeen hundred tonnes of steelworks was used during the construction. Originally constructed sixty feet above the river to cater to the frequent flooding of the Perak River, its average height above the river surface had increased over the years due to the reduced volume of water flowing down the Perak River due to various factors including the number of dams built on the river in Upper Perak.

At its completion, the Bridge was 928 feet long with the roadway on the Bridge being thirty feet wide between the curbs. Reflecting the period of design and construction, the approach roads to the Bridge were intentionally curved so as to permit heavy vehicles to travel safely across the Bridge at regulated speeds. Including the four thousand feet approach roads at the two ends - total costs of its construction was $1.5million.

Iskandar Bridge is still Malaysia's longest steel bridge. However, traffic volume had decreased in recent years due to the opening of the 460km Northern Route (E1) of the North-South Expressway - a controlled access "tolled" expressway which was officially opened in 1994. Traffic was further reduced with the opening in 2002 of the Sultan Abdul Jalil Bridge linking Kuala Kangsar town directly with Sayong.

For students of MCKK, Iskandar Bridge continue to play important roles in their school life. Frequent trips to Ipoh (and various towns along the Federal Route 1 such as Karai, Salak, and Sungai Siput) are made over the course of the school year by MCKK students for various official and unofficial reasons such as representing the College and/or the Kuala Kangsar District for various co-curricular activities.

During the 1970s and 1980s, even supporters made the journey to Ipoh on privately hired busses to cheer on the College Teams in their quest for victory in annual games or Majlis Sukan Sekolah-Sekolah Malaysia (MSSM) tournaments against established Ipoh-based schools such as Sekolah Tuanku Abdul Rahman (STAR), Anderson School, St Michael Institutions, Sam Tet School and Poi Lam School as well as schools from other regions of Perak. Usually, the Boys will depart College in high spirits singing the various College Supporters songs until, at least, the crossing of the Iskandar Bridge and the singing will usually recommence once the busses reach Ipoh.

THE MALAY COLLEGE OLD BOYS'
ASSOCIATION

Reminiscing Corner: The Origin Of The MCKK War / Battle Cry Bungwak

A War or Battle Cry is a phrase or word shouted by people as they start to fight, intended to give them the strength and wish to fight harder.

The Bungwak Battle Cry is a recognisable rallying cry amongst the Malay College Boys (Old & Present) . It is part of the repertoire of the cheering team as far back I could remember ever since I entered the Malay College Kuala Kangsar In 1972.

Till today, it has transcend the many generations of MCKK Boys as it has been synonymous with victory and rallying cry. If you hear someone cry out “Bungwak!” - don’t be surprised if you see a bunch of people bend down in unison to do the ‘Bungwak’ Battle cry whilst clapping their hands and ending with a hearty ‘Wah!’ and at times with a repeats of ‘ Who are we? Can’t you see? ‘ followed by the vigorous ‘ Malay College !’ Then a jump with a Clenched Fist upwards.. followed by a Yeah!”

This seemingly rallying point of Bung Wak has become an iconic phrase for decades to MCOBs which binds them as being one who is from MCKK. However, there has been that intriguing part of its origin and what does it really mean. Was it named after an Indonesian chap that everyone refers to as Bungwak? Was ‘Wek Wek’ a symbolic disgusting expression of the food they had at the Malay College. Who were the ones that first created it?

Having gone through new generations , words has transformed it - thus creating chaos, an identity crisis. Was “Bungkak” meaning snob maybe, for these “bung kek kek”.(or bunch of KK Boys) as heard in their “Bungwak” battlecry, “bung wek wek”. I am sure the tune has changed tremendously compared to what their fierce predecessors originally intended. The cultural hereditary or heritage then begins to shape the lives of the occupants of the old alma mater. Where do one begin to tell the story of how the Battle Cry came to be?

The urban legend answer lies in the memoirs of Old Boys who had painstakingly collected and penned down their wonderful moments into their batches' activities. I found the answer in the Golden 66 Coffee Table Book (the Commemorative Book of the Class of 66) on page 92, (launched on 20th January 2018), entitled "The FFS U Wak U wekwek War Cry/Cheer" that goes as follows:

"...When we were in Form Five we became members of the Fifth Form Society (FFS), electing our President - Yaacob Cha - and a Committee and among other things, we had inter class games with the Sixth Form Society. Soccer was an important game for us as we had quite a number of our members in the School Team and we need to win the match to stamp our superiority. While preparing for the game, it was agreed that we develop a formal cheering team, with our own cheering songs. In the other matches played we did have our cheering teams, but our 'songs' were similar with others, and the volume (sound) of our cheering had to be stronger.

Rugby was THE game in MCKK even then and the New Zealand All Blacks were everybody's favourite team, and their Hakka was this imitated. We had amongst us several rugby players and Joe Bake (Abu Bakar Awang Ngah) introduced the Hakka idea for the rugby team. Khalid Hassan and Bahar Mansor took the initiative to 'compose' our version of the Hakka, producing the FFS War Cry for our team to perform before the start of the game and the supporters to do it from the stands.

U Wak U Wekwek
(accompanied by clapping in tempo throughout the song)
Bung Kak Bung Kekek
Who are we? FFS!
(Fifth Form Society)
Can't you see?
Wahh!
(followed by a jump)

This song was later adopted by the rugby team before they start their game and we used it when we cheered the school teams, especially rugby, of course. The "FFS" was replaced with "Malay College". The Fifth Form Cheering Squad, having featured in school matches at home, went on its first outstation 'assignment' to cheer the school's Soccer team in the match against Sekolah Tuanku Abdul Rahman (STAR) in Ipoh, but we lost 3-1.

Thus, the MCKK Bungwak Cheer took shape and since then it has become the MCKK Official cheering 'anthem'. The first two lines were random word-sounds created.

The Bungwak Cheer was famously entrenched when the FFS Soccer Team beat the Sixth Form Society Team...."

There you have it... Bungwak metamorphosed from U Wak U Wek Wek... it means nothing but random word-sounds and it was created by Khalid Hassan and Bahar Mansor from the class of 66. It was inspired by Hakka War Cry of the New Zealand's All-Blacks Rugby Team. Hope it clarifies a lot the legacy of the Bungwak Battle Cry. So, let's do the 'Bungwak'

 MALAY COLLEGE CLASS OF 2013

“We want more!”

It is what we used to scream at the top of our lungs every time our training session ended - this simple yet meaningful line is what our coaches, Usaia Biunmaiwai and Khusainy Ishak, would want to hear – pushing us to our limits and beyond.

Those were the days when hard work was rewarded with history and glorious achievements. We couldn't have done it without the help of our coaches, teachers, parents, All Blacks Revival, brothers, and all collegians for being a part of our momentous journey during our time at Koleq.

May the hallow year of 2013 live on in our hearts for many years to come, and may we be able to recall it as a source of nostalgia and inspiration.

 - a. If two (2) or more teams in the same group finish with the same number of points, the following shall determine the placing in the group.

 - d. If a decision is still not reached, the qualifying order shall be determined by the drawing of lots.
 - ii. If any team gives a walkover in the Group matches, all their games will be deemed null and void. They will be placed last in their group irrespective of the results of their other matches.
